

the CURVYFASHIONISTA

December 18th, 2015

PopBliss: The Pop-Up Wedding Experience By Racquel Kristi

We recognize that a woman's wedding day is one of the most important days of her life, we also know that it can be one of the most stressful. All of the planning and preparing to assure that everything is as close to perfect as it can be, has been the cause of many breakdowns and bridezilla moments leading up to and on the big day.

WHAT IF there was a way to eliminate the stress of this big day so that you and your and groom could just enjoy your moment? For those of you who would jump at the opportunity to simplify your wedding duties and bask in the moment, wedding expert Racquel Kristi has something just for you with PopBliss.

We know that many of you curvy fashionistas have been dreaming of one day since you were a little girl... Your wedding day. Many of you have all of the details of the day planned out, even though you may not have a groom yet. BUT, there are many of you who haven't given it a thought and just thinking of all the planning and the costs sends you into a flurry of emotions! Well, how about a Pop-Up Wedding? YES.

PopBliss by Racquel Kristi is one of the first group luxury pop-up wedding service! It offers you the chance to have a celebrity style, chic wedding that combines the effort of going to City Hall with the glam of a wedding that cost hundreds of thousands of dollars! PopBliss is the perfect way for YOU to take ALL of the work out of getting married and enjoy the experience. Work smarter not harder, right?

With December being the month when most engagements occur, this is the perfect time to make the announcement about PopBliss and what it has to offer. Think about it! The best wedding money can buy without the hefty price tag. A whimsical and wonderful wedding with the location, vendors, décor, food and all other details taken care of, all you have to do is show up and bring 10 of your closest guests! It sounds like a dream come true to me!

The first of these weddings will take place in March and is available to up to 10 couples. While the guest list is limited, the wedding will be streaming live which will give all of your loved ones to experience the joy of this beautiful day!

The PopBliss Wedding package includes:

- A Welcome Party: The night before the wedding the couples will join together for the ultimate date night before the big day
- A Bliss Brunch: To help ease the big day nerves, the ladies and gentleman are invited to separate brunches to prepare for the big day and get their jitters out.
- A Glam Suite: The brides and grooms will get the celebrity treatment before they walk down the aisle. They will get styled by the bridal stylist and expert hair and makeup team so they're in full glam for the big day.
- THE Pop-Up Wedding: The big moment! Couples will walk down the aisle and share personal vows, during a group ceremony, followed by a group reception!

Is this up your alley? Well, if it is, head on over to PopBliss.co and lock in your date!

Ladies chime in, would you be open to having a wedding of this manner? I sure would!

Images Courtesy of Blissful Grandeur